* 2015 Côteaux Giennois Blanc Domaine Montbenoit

With the cost of vineyard land climbing out of sight in Sancerre and Pouilly-Fumé, Loire vignerons are turning to newer, less famous plots that share the same kind of limestone soils. The closest one at hand is Côteaux Giennois across the river from Sancerre, producing a very similar style of Sauvignon Blanc. This wine is vibrant and fresh with lovely floral notes that hang seductively on a very good finish. A sexy little wine.

Great with oysters and all kinds of finned fish, calamari and tuna tartare.

Nobody rides the fence on Gewurztraminer. People love it or hate it. But even those who like it often won't order it in a restaurant because they're not sure how sweet that particular bottle will be. The 'Lyra' is fully dry but possesses those rich, flowery aromas and flavours that Gewurtz lovers swoon over. The Nals Margreid winery is one of the best producers in Alto Adige, a feat made more remarkable by the fact they are also a cooperative representing 150 small growers, the best-run cooperative I have ever seen. If you're skeptical, check out their website and see how gorgeous their winery is! These folks know how to spend their money. Try this heady white with tuna tartare or chicken.

* 2014 Gruner Veltliner 'Paragon Vineyard' [Sustainable] Baker & Brain (Edna Valley)

Matt Brain and Josh Baker take sustainability very seriously, with a solar-powered winery and recycled materials for everything including labels and lightweight bottles. Brain, a native of Georgetown, Ontario, who teaches enology at Cal-Poly and Baker, the winemaker at Edna Valley Vineyards, met on a camping trip in Yosemite and bonded over a discussion on low-impact, high-quality winemaking. They specialize in esoteric grape choices and found this small patch of Gruner in the Paragon Vineyard, the most prestigious vineyard in San Luis Obispo. Rich and heady aromatically, this plush but unoaked offering goes so well with just about everything, itself almost a testament to multiculturalism.

* 2016 Assyrtiko 'Wild Ferment' [Organic] Gaia (Santorini, Greece)

There is a theory that the ancient Minoan culture on Crete may have been destroyed by a tsunami created by a massive volcanic explosion on neighbouring Santorini. What is certain is that the soil on Santorini is fairly young and very volcanic with high levels of ambient sulfur. What this means, where winemaking is concerned, is that depending on natural yeasts for barrel fermentation is more perilous here than almost anywhere else. Gaia winemaker (and University of Bordeaux enology professor) Dr. Yiannis Paraskevopoulos estimates he loses one-third of his 'Wild Ferment' barrels each year due to stuck fermentations, which is a bloody shame because this is easily Greece's best white wine. Made from the intensely mineral grape Assyrtiko, this tastes like Cru-level white Burgundy made with a hammer. Very cool stuff.

* 2014 Sancerre Rouge Domaine Franck Millet

Seldom seen outside of France until around a decade ago, Sancerre Rouge has become a staple of sommeliers who love French Pinot Noirs and want to share a reasonably priced example. Burgundy may indeed remain the motherlode for Pinot but Sancerre Rouge is farmed the same way on similar limestone soils and is a great alternative wine for the classic style of French cooking that we undertake to provide here. This will go with red meats and richer fishes but may hit its best expression with dishes like steak tartare, duck and charcuterie.

* 2010 La Clape 'Les Bartelles' Mas du Soleilla (Languedoc)

This estate has a glorious view of the Mediterranean and the vines luxuriate in all that sunshine - but cool ocean breezes keep the grapes from becoming too leathery or raisined. Made from a blend of 80% Syrah and 20% Grenache, the 'Les Bartelles' cuvée has size and scope but isn't overblown or out of balance. Rich and deep, with a gorgeous spiciness that expands in the glass, this is a great accompaniment to all red meats, especially lamb. And the Rhôneish blend can cope beautifully with tomato dishes, too. Delicious.

* 2014 Priorat 'Bru' [Biodynamic] Mas Martinet (Penedes, Spain)

Dense and brooding with deep reserves of blue-black fruit, this classic Priorat is a blend of 60% Garnacha, 25% Syrah and the remainder made up of Merlot and Cabernet Sauvignon all biodynamically grown from vines averaging about twenty years of age. It has seen time in oak but the 4,000 litre barrels do not transfer much in the way of oak flavouring to the finished wine. This is a great accompaniment to all types of game, lamb and beef, and is particularly good with deep braises and tomato dishes.

Owner/winemaker Mark Vlossak founded St. Innocent in 1988 and has been one of the leading lights of the Oregon Pinot movement throughout its existence. All of his wines had always been single vineyard bottlings until about ten years ago when he created the 'Villages' cuvée which is a blend of fruit from all five of his vineyards. Fresh and juicy, a little lighter than his vineyard-designated Pinots, this wine is meant to go with lighter foods like roast chicken or gamebirds and is gorgeous with robust fishes like salmon as well.

* 2012 Malbec 'Old Vine' [Organic] Versado (Mendoza, Argentina)

This plush, rich mouth-filling red is the excellent creation of two local Ontario winemakers: husband and wife Ann Sperling (Southbrook) and Peter Gamble (Ravine Vineyards). They spent years looking for just the right combination of old Mendoza Malbec vines that could be converted to organic farming methods. The 2012 'Old Vine' cuvée has a savoury topnote over dense black fruit with classic Mendoza ginger cookie spice notes that linger long after the wine is gone. Try it with red meats, especially beef, and calves liver.
