- * 2014 Château Latour-Martillac Grand Cru Classé de Graves (Pessac-Léognan)
White Bordeaux tends to be epitomized as ordinary thanks to the oceans of Entre-Deux-Mers produced annually but the top wines of Graves and especially Pessac-Léognan are often stunningly complex. Latour-Martillac is one of my perennial favourites undoubtedly due to the high percentage of Sémillon (55%) which melds so well with oak barrel spice to make fleshy, delicious wines with some heft. Try this not too cold with white-fleshed fishes and even lobster.

* 2015 Gewurztraminer 'Lyra' Nals Margreid (Alto Adige)

Nobody rides the fence on Gewurztraminer. People love it or hate it. But even those who like it often won't order it in a restaurant because they're not sure how sweet that particular bottle will be. The 'Lyra' is fully dry but possesses those rich, flowery aromas and flavours that Gewurtz lovers swoon over. The Nals Margreid winery is one of the best producers in Alto Adige, a feat made more remarkable by the fact they are also a cooperative representing 150 small growers, the best-run cooperative I have ever seen. If you're skeptical, check out their website and see how gorgeous their winery is! These folks know how to spend their money. Try this heady white with tuna tartare or chicken.

- * 2014 Gruner Veltliner 'Paragon Vineyard' [Sustainable] Baker & Brain (Edna Valley)
Matt Brain and Josh Baker take sustainability very seriously, with a solar-powered winery and recycled materials for everything including labels and lightweight bottles. Brain, a native of Georgetown, Ontario, who teaches enology at Cal-Poly and Baker, the winemaker at Edna Valley Vineyards, met on a camping trip in Yosemite and bonded over a discussion on low-impact, high-quality winemaking. They specialize in esoteric grape choices and found this small patch of Gruner in the Paragon Vineyard, the most prestigious vineyard in San Luis Obispo. Rich and heady aromatically, this plush but unoaked offering goes so well with just about everything, itself almost a testament to multiculturalism.

- * 2016 Assyrtiko 'Wild Ferment' [Organic] Gaia (Santorini, Greece)

There is a theory that the ancient Minoan culture on Crete may have been destroyed by a tsunami created by a massive volcanic explosion on neighbouring Santorini. What is certain is that the soil on Santorini is fairly young and very volcanic with high levels of ambient sulfur. What this means, where winemaking is concerned, is that depending on natural yeasts for barrel fermentation is more perilous here than almost anywhere else. Gaia winemaker (and University of Bordeaux enology professor) Dr. Yiannis Paraskevopoulos estimates he loses one-third of his 'Wild Ferment' barrels each year due to stuck fermentations, which is a bloody shame because this is easily Greece's best white wine. Made from the intensely mineral grape Assyrtiko, this tastes like Cru-level white Burgundy made with a hammer. Very cool stuff.

* 2014 St-Romain Rouge [Organic] Sarnin-Berrux

In 2007, Jean-Pascal Sarnin quit his job as CFO at a large Paris stockbrokers firm and moved back to his hometown of St-Romain. Jean-Marie Berrux had too left a successful career in advertising in 1999 to pursue winemaking. Together, they are emblematic of a new Burgundy, making wines as naturally as possible - unfiltered, without added yeasts or enzymes and using the minimum legal sulfur to stabilize their organic Pinots. This results in a lovely purity with vivid intensity and a very good midpalate and finish.

* 2014 Côtes du Rhône-Villages 'Inopia' Rotem & Mounir Saouma

This Rhône estate is a side project of Lebanon-born Mounir Saouma, the owner/winemaker at the highly esteemed micro-garagiste Burgundy producer, Lucien le Moine. The 'Inopia' cuvée is a blend of several Rhône-Villages vineyards, hence the lack of village name on the label. The nose is brightly savoury over velvety purple fruit. The palate is dark but still quite lively with dense fruit leavened with notes of light tar and Dutch zout licorice. Great with red meats but especially lamb.

* 2015 Priorat 'Bru' [Biodynamic] Mas Martinet (Penedes, Spain)

Dense and brooding with deep reserves of blue-black fruit, this classic Priorat is a blend of 60% Garnacha, 25% Syrah and the remainder made up of Merlot and Cabernet Sauvignon all biodynamically grown from vines averaging about twenty years of age. It has seen time in oak but the 4,000 litre barrels do not transfer much in the way of oak flavouring to the finished wine.

This is a great accompaniment to all types of game, lamb and beef, and is particularly good with deep braises and tomato dishes.

- * 2014 Terre Siciliane Faro [Organic] 'Terra di Vento' Enza la Fauci (Sicily)
Sicily is hot! And by hot I mean super-trendy right now, and especially Sicilian wines. The Faro DOC is on the north-east tip of the island, north of Etna and closer to the mainland than to the volcano. Enza la Fauci is one of the new wave of organic winemakers revolutionizing the island's wine culture. This blend, dominated by Nerello Mascalese, has aromas of cherry cordial, roses and bresaola on the nose. The palate has a lovely weight, freshness and shows delicious cherry and cranberry notes but is fully dry. Fabulous with meats, cheeses and tomato dishes.

* 2016 Pinot Noir 'Villages Cuvée' St. Innocent (Willamette, Oregon)

Owner/winemaker Mark Vlossak founded St. Innocent in 1988 and has been one of the leading lights of the Oregon Pinot movement throughout its existence. All of his wines had always been single vineyard bottlings until about ten years ago when he created the 'Villages' cuvée which is a blend of fruit from all five of his vineyards. Fresh and juicy, a little lighter than his vineyard-designated Pinots, this wine is meant to go with lighter foods like roast chicken or gamebirds and is gorgeous with robust fishes like salmon as well.

- * 2015 Pinot Noir 'Barda' [Biodynamic] Bodega Chacra (Patagonia, Argentina)
Bodega Chacra is the brainchild of Piero Incisa della Rocchetta, the grandson of the creator of Tuscany's Sassicaia. The Barda cuvée is from a twenty-seven year old biodynamically farmed vineyard in the Patagonian desert. The key to making superb Pinot here is the diurnal temperature swing between warm sunny days that ripen grapes perfectly and crisp nighttime temperatures that retain freshness and balance. Nice intensity here that pairs beautifully with duck, veal and even richer fishes like salmon.
