White Bordeaux tends to be epitomized as ordinary thanks to the oceans of Entre-Deux-Mers produced annually but the top wines of Graves and especially Pessac-Léognan are often stunningly complex. Latour-Martillac is one of my perennial favourites undoubtedly due to the high percentage of Sémillon (55%) which melds so well with oak barrel spice to make fleshy, delicious wines with some heft. Try this not too cold with white-fleshed fishes and even lobster.

* 2015 Gewurztraminer 'Lyra' Nals Margreid (Alto Adige)

Nobody rides the fence on Gewurztraminer. People love it or hate it. But even those who like it often won't order it in a restaurant because they're not sure how sweet that particular bottle will be. The 'Lyra' is fully dry but possesses those rich, flowery aromas and flavours that Gewurtz lovers swoon over. The Nals Margreid winery is one of the best producers in Alto Adige, a feat made more remarkable by the fact they are also a cooperative representing 150 small growers, the best-run cooperative I have ever seen. If you're skeptical, check out their website and see how gorgeous their winery is! These folks know how to spend their money. Try this heady white with tuna tartare or chicken.

- * 2015 Chardonnay 'Wismer-Foxcroft Vyd' Leaning Post (VQA Twenty Mile Bench)
The Ontario 'boutique' wine industry is 43 years old this year and as an undeniably new wine region, the search and understanding of Niagara's best terroirs is just beginning to come home to roost. One vineyard whose name you will find on a remarkable number of top Chardonnay bottlings is Craig Wismer's Foxcroft planting. This delicious version by Ilya Senchuk of Leaning Post is typical of the 2015 vintage's ample generosity with Meursault-like plushness framed in the limestone minerality of the best Niagara wines. It's an amazing thing to be able to say that you feel confident that someone could offer you a blind taste of a top Ontario Riesling or Chardonnay anywhere in the world and you could nail it! This is why we do it. Delicious with shellfish, halibut or salmon, pork or veal.

* 2016 Assyrtiko 'Wild Ferment' [Organic] Gaia (Santorini, Greece)

There is a theory that the ancient Minoan culture on Crete may have been destroyed by a tsunami created by a massive volcanic explosion on neighbouring Santorini. What is certain is that the soil on Santorini is fairly young and very volcanic with high levels of ambient sulfur. What this means, where winemaking is concerned, is that depending on natural yeasts for barrel fermentation is more perilous here than almost anywhere else. Gaia winemaker (and University of Bordeaux enology professor) Dr. Yiannis Paraskevopoulos estimates he loses one-third of his 'Wild Ferment' barrels each year due to stuck fermentations, which is a bloody shame because this is easily Greece's best white wine. Made from the intensely mineral grape Assyrtiko, this tastes like Cru-level white Burgundy made with a hammer. Very cool stuff.

In 2007, Jean-Pascal Sarnin quit his job as CFO at a large Paris stockbrokers firm and moved back to his hometown of St-Romain. Jean-Marie Berrux had too left a successful career in advertising in 1999 to pursue winemaking. Together, they are emblematic of a new Burgundy, making wines as naturally as possible - unfiltered, without added yeasts or enzymes and using the minimum legal sulfur to stabilize their organic Pinots. This results in a lovely purity with vivid intensity and a very good midpalate and finish.

- * 2012 VdP de l'Herault Carignan Noir 'L'Angely' Boulevard Napoléon (Herault)
This wine is made by Trevor Gulliver, one of the partners in the excellent Saint John restaurant group in London. It is classic old vine Carignan from La Livinière, the finest village cru in Corbières, made with as little intervention as possible and the only reason that it's a lowly VdP is because the makeup of 100% Carignan defies the AOC regulations that stipulates a blend. Dark with glossy, mineral-tinged black fruit, it's delicious with lamb, venison, tomato dishes and charcuterie.

* 2015 Priorat 'Bru' [Biodynamic] Mas Martinet (Penedes, Spain)

Dense and brooding with deep reserves of blue-black fruit, this classic Priorat is a blend of 60% Garnacha, 25% Syrah and the remainder made up of Merlot and Cabernet Sauvignon all biodynamically grown from vines averaging about twenty years of age. It has seen time in oak but the 4,000 litre barrels do not transfer much in the way of oak flavouring to the finished wine. This is a great accompaniment to all types of game, lamb and beef, and is particularly good with deep braises and tomato dishes.

This wine is an unusual blend of the re nascent Bordeaux varietal Carmenère (80%) and the ancient Veronese grape Oseleta. More associated with Chile these days, yet there are small pockets of Carmenère all over North-Eastern Italy dating to the late 19th century. But the only thing you really need to know is that this is the best, most polished Carmenère blend I've ever had. Period. Glossy black berries dominate the palate with a lightly savoury twist and a great midpalate and finish. Delicious with roasts and braises, calf's liver and steaks.

* 2016 Pinot Noir 'Villages Cuvée' St. Innocent (Willamette, Oregon)

Owner/winemaker Mark Vlossak founded St. Innocent in 1988 and has been one of the leading lights of the Oregon Pinot movement throughout its existence. All of his wines had always been single vineyard bottlings until about ten years ago when he created the 'Villages' cuvée which is a blend of fruit from all five of his vineyards. Fresh and juicy, a little lighter than his vineyard-designated Pinots, this wine is meant to go with lighter foods like roast chicken or gamebirds and is gorgeous with robust fishes like salmon as well.

Bodega Chacra is the brainchild of Piero Incisa della Rocchetta, the grandson of the creator of Tuscany's Sassicaia. The Barda cuvée is from a twenty-seven year old biodynamically farmed vineyard in the Patagonian desert. The key to making superb Pinot here is the diurnal temperature swing between warm sunny days that ripen grapes perfectly and crisp nighttime temperatures that retain freshness and balance. Nice intensity here that pairs beautifully with duck, veal and even richer fishes like salmon.
